Parents and their children attending malnutrition campaign

On the 26th of March 2016 Ceza hospital team together with an NGO (HST) visited Empangisweni area community to educate them with malnutrition following many children admitted in Paediatric ward with malnutrition from this area. They were warmly welcomed by traditional leaders and the community was very happy to learn more on how to feed their children with healthy food. On the day children were weighed. Sister Ntshapheka Paediatric ward Operational Manager said that parents must take good care of their kids at all times because at this time and age it is not right for the community to have kids with malnutrition. "Child malnutrition is a serious public health concern; said Sister Ntshapheka. Parents were also told to give their children food with nutrients such as vegetables, milk, fish and white meat to assist in maintaining healthy bodies and decrease malnutrition.

DR LARSSON VISIT

On the 23rd of February 2016 Ceza hospital was graced by the visit of a Swedish medical doctor couple Dr Jan and Kerstin Larsson, now retired, who have previously worked at Ceza hospital from 1973-1977 and 1981-1983. "Our time at Ceza made an immense impact in our lives. All our three children have followed in our steps and have become medical doctors and the oldest of our grandchildren is starting Medical School in September this year. We have now reached a point when all our grandchildren are old enough to ask questions about those years, and we have long been nourishing a dream to see the place once more, and this time together with our children and their families. The grandchildren are seven in number, aged 7 - 20 years, and we are travelling together with my niece Agneta (Jürisoo), who was with us for three of our Ceza years, and has since become a Sister Tutor"; said Dr Jan Larsson. Their purpose of the visit was also to see the place, breathe the air, walk the grounds and surroundings and to revive their memories. Local retired staff who worked with Dr Larsson during those times at Ceza Hospital came along to visit him.
