The MEC's Annual Service Excellence Awards event was recently held at the Durban International Convention Centre on the 1st of June 2018. Members from various divisions of the health departments took part. These awards were established to reward hospitals and individuals who have excelled in different fields of work and having contributed to health service excellence.

The MASEA awards honours and recognizes those workers who are dedicated to their calling and who have excelled in the performance of their duties. Some are also recognized for their commitment to uplift their communities by walking the extra mile.

Ms. Revival Senamile Mavuso Occupational Therapist from the Estcourt Hospital received Certificate of Achievement for 3rd position in the category: allied health professional of the year. Senamile is a very dedicated and self-driven therapist as she always tries her best to ensure optimistic recovery of her patients. Her passion for occupational therapy saw her coming up with different projects which have yielded positive results for the Estcourt community. Hospital management congratulated Ms. Mavuso and the rest of the Rehab team for receiving the award.
