"EMOTIONAL WELLNESS THROUGH THE LIFESPAN" UKUPHILA NGOKWEMIZWA IMPILO

The Grey's hospital team comprising of Social Work and Clinical Psychology aimed to educate and raise awareness of emotional health in the context of lifespan development. WORLD BREASTFEEDING WEEK

World Breastfeeding week was well organized and celebrated at the Gynaecology Outpatient Department in the week of 01 –07 August 2019. The mothers who attended the breastfeeding week activities were provided with pamphlets and educated about the importance of breastfeeding. They were informed that Breastfeeding has many health benefits for both the mother and infant. Breast milk contains all the nutrients an infant needs in the first six months of life. Breastfeeding protects against diarrhoea and common childhood illnesses such as pneumonia, and may also have longer-term health benefits for the mother and child, such as reducing the risk of overweight and obesity in childhood and adolescence. World Health Organization recommends that infants should be exclusively breastfed for the first six months of life to achieve optimal growth, development and health. Thereafter, to meet their evolving nutritional requirements, infants should receive nutritionally adequate and safe complementary foods, while continuing to breastfeed for up to two years or beyond. Evidence suggests that educational interventions during pregnancy (e.g. peer counselling, lactation consultation or formal breastfeeding education) may increase the duration of breastfeeding.

MARKET DAY

For the fourth time, Grey's Hospital played host to a Market Day on the 21 November 2019.

This was an initiative by the Physiotherapy Department to raise awareness and funds to support the Quad-Para Association in Kwa Zulu-Natal. The funds are utilized towards transport and refreshments for meetings between patients and members of Quad-Para at Grey's Hospital. Quad-Para KZN is an NGO that provides counselling and support to patients with spinal cord injuries. They also assist with integration of the spinal patient back into the community. Their members visit Grey's Hospital regularly to meet with spinal patients. The objective of the fundraiser is to strengthen the association between Grey's Hospital and Quad-Para KZN. Stalls were leased to private individuals/companies. A jumble sale was also held on 15 November 2019. The stalls at the market day boasted full occupancy and there were a wide variety of items on sale ranging from food, crafts, motor-ing, insurance companies, health and beauty. A big THANK YOU goes out to Grey's staff who turned out in their numbers to support the market day.

16 DAYS OF ACTIVISM FOR NO VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN AND CHILDREN

The events took place on the 5th December 2019 at GOPD Clinic and the Lodger Mother's facility. The theme for this year: Enough Is Enough – End Gender-Based Violence. The events aimed to educate the public (women in particular) about violence and gender-based violence. It also focused on educating and empowering the audience on how to report such incidents and seek professional help. During the events, the audience was given an opportunity to participate in discussions around the subject of violence and was encouraged to ask questions. It was apparent that most patients who come from deep rural settings had a clear understanding of what gender-based violence was, but the majority of them still felt scared to report violent-related cases to authority figures, as they were reportedly financially dependent on their abusers.

In conclusion, both events went well and the attendance was good. However, there is still a lot more that needs to be done at an individual, family, community, institutional and state level in order to curb the scourge of gender-based violence in society today. From these events, it is apparent that rural women need more empowerment opportunities such as employment opportunities, so that they can be able to sustain themselves, make healthier life decisions and avoid staying in abusive relationships due to financial dependence.
