WORLD BREASTFEEDING WEEK

Greytown Hospital Nutrition and Dietetics team conducted Breastfeeding awareness in all PHC facilities including the Hospital during the first week of August 2018.

The aim of Breastfeeding Week was to create awareness to mothers on the importance and benefits of breastfeeding. Health Education was the order of the day, covering topics on breastfeeding infant and young child feeding practices.

Prizes were given to mothers who do not abscond clinic visits, exclusively breastfed their babies for 6 months and more and mothers who answered all questions correctly. The mothers who had the best Road to Health booklet in terms of cleanliness and completeness were also awarded.

Staff members who attended the awareness; performed songs and educational drama for the audience. The mothers were so appreciative of the support given by the staff.
