Quality day at MGMH

Theme for 2023: Quality: realizing your competitive potential

Mahatma Gandhi Memorial Hospital is one of the institutions that has different cultures within the same institution. The facility under the mentorship of the charismatic CEO Mr. Maphumulo, celebrates this historic event every year. November, flagged as Quality Month in South Africa, is a golden opportunity to reflect, re-evaluate, and re-energize quality-centric initiatives within organizations. It's very important to ensure that the QUALITY MONTH celebration does not only become a kind of lip service or just a formality. Mahatma Gandhi Memorial Hospital also celebrate this day to honor those employees who have been doing well, extremely well in their duties through the year. The real essence of Quality Month lies in its ability to instigate a culture of continuous improvement, driving organizational excellence far beyond November.

Welcome notes by Mr Mthethwa

MGMH Nurse Manager was addressing the employees about what is a quality day and the importance of this day. "Quality day is celebrated over the world, Quality week is designed to recognize the contributions of quality professionals across the globe. The day was designed to increase worldwide awareness of the important contribution that quality makes towards both organizational and national growth, and prosperity. World Quality Day is celebrated annually on the second Thursday in November. Mahatma Gandhi Hospital, celebrated the Quality day within the facility". This year's theme is "Quality: realizing your competitive potential."

The purpose of this day is to raise quality awareness and provide support to individuals for a job well done and the adoption of high-quality standards. This day aims to recognize the achievements of quality professionals, reflect on the successes and challenges of the past year, and share best practices. Concluded Mr. Mthethwa (Nurse Manager)
