Addington Pays Tribute to the late Former President Dr Nelson Rholihlahla Mandela

Ninety one Heads of States paid tribute to the late former President Dr Nelson Rholihlahla Mandela. American President Barack Obama thanked South Africa for sharing Nelson Mandela with the world. President Barack Obama says “ His struggle was your struggle. His triumph was your triumph. Madiba would emerge as the last great liberator of the 21st century”.

Addington hospital pays tribute to the legend. The event was held at Addington Hospital Centenary Hall on 12 December 2013 . Dr M

Ndlangisa the Chief Executive officer, welcomed all guests and Addington staff. He gave a brief educational session against the distortion of the liberation history, mentioning the founder of the ANC Dr John Langalibalele kaDube Ngcobo. Furthermore, he encouraged that people should learn from Madiba’s selflessness, wisdom and modesty, not forgetting to carry on where Mandela left.

Ward 26 Counsellor, C.B Dlamini was one of the invited guests that came accompanied by his comrades. During his keynote address, the Counsellor applauded the efforts of Madiba. He said, not only was Dr Nelson Mandela a unifier, moreover, he fought for equality amongst all races, not only in South Africa, but also across the globe.

Counsellor Dlamini emphasized that in as much as there is visible progress within South Africa but a lot still needs to be done, and all South Africans must contribute for the betterment of the nation

The hall busted into revolutionary songs as Sabelo Luthuli (Praise-Singer), joined by the Programme Director Sibonelo Madlala and the Addington choir reminisced about the songs and speeches that made Mandela. Addington Hospital staff salutes Nelson Mandela. May his legacy live forever.
