KZN MEC DR SIBONGISENI DHLOMO AND THE HEAD OF DEPT DR SIBONGILE ZUNGU

The KZN MEC for Health, DR Sibongiseni Dhlomo and the Head of Department, Dr Sibongile Zungu graced the launch of the KZN Children's Hospital

This exciting event was held at the Old KZN

Children's Hospital. Invited and attending this exciting event were dignitaries from the Department of Health, Private Sector, Media etc.

Professor Bill Winship who once worked at the Old Children Hospital was pleased as he looked at the image of himself standing in the front lawn of the children's hospital way back in 1971.

Entertaining the audience were children from the local schools that were singing and dancing with the MEC, Dr Sibongiseni Dhlomo.

INVITED GUESTS LISTENING TO KZN MEC DELIVERING THE SPEECH

The Addington Hospital staff is pleased to know that there will be revamping of the old KZN Children Hospital.

People like Prof Bill Winship and Richard Siedle who have sweet memories of the Old KZN Children Hospital are overwhelmed with joy when hearing the good news that there will be revamping of the old KZN Children Hospital. The Children Hospital will offer specialized services to KZN Community.

The Old Children Hospital was built in 1931. The idea of the Old Children Hospital was from the then Town Councillor, Mrs. O. Siedle who was instrumental in generating the income of building the Old Children's Hospital.

The actual cost of building the Old Children Hospital amounted to R51, 312 and the equipment to another sum of approximately R 18 000. The then Provincial Government appreciated the aid rendered by Mrs. O. Siedle.

The building was planned by Mr. Cleland, Chief Architect of the Public Works

Department of the Union, who took a real and definite interest in every detail appertaining the construction of the hospital.

The contract was carried out by Messrs. W. Cornelius & Sons.

The hospital had extensions like Kitchen, Theatres etc. these were made larger than would have actually sufficed for the present accommodation.

INVITED GUESTS ATTENDING THE QUALITY DAY EVENT

The quality Day Event was held at the Addington Centenary Hall

The Quality Manager, Sr C. A. Carter working closely with the Quality Team decided that Addington should host the Quality Day at the Centenary Hall. In doing this they invited all service delivery units to partake in this exciting event. All service delivery units were requested;

1. To apply
2. Decide on QIP/Poster Presentation/ Model
3. Hand in their final submission. The closing date for application was set. Entries were submitted to Centenary Hall the date prior to the date of the event so that the judging of posters and models could be conducted.

Prescreening of oral presentations took the day prior to the event.

What the judges were looking for is;

1. That Service Delivery Units have improved the quality of service QIP.
2. The Selection Committee were; The panel included independent judges

How many Awards? There were three awards for each category and all entries will receive a recommendation certificate.

The presenters were quite good, when they were presenting it was clear that they were saying something that they are practicing. The guests were listening attentively at the speakers. This caused the work of the independent judge a little difficult because all presenters were good. Entertainment also left the house stunned. They were singing and dancing and it was really an experience one would not forget.

Judging by the number of Service Delivery Units that did partake in the event one could mention that the Event was indeed a success

The Psychiatry Mental Health Awareness Day was held at the Centenary Hall and was organized by the Psychiatry and the Social Work Department

Approximately twenty (20) stakeholders coming from institutions relating to mental illnesses were invited to partake in this event. Amongst them were institutions dealing with drugs, alcohol, substance abuse etc.

Two mentally challenged schools were invited and were requested to perform and create awareness about the mental health condition.

Various stalls for information were set offering information to those attending the event. The stalls include the, Alcohol Anonymous, SANCA, Occupational Therapy, NICRO, Social Work, Psychology, Association for Physically Challenged, CEDERS, KERR HOUSE, TAFTA, FAMSA, Epilepsy Foundation etc.

Various speakers were sharing the podium addressing the audience that were attending this event. As a means of sharing information, pamphlets were also distributed amongst those attending the event.

The event would not have been a success without the entertainment. There were Zulu Cultural Dancers that sang and dance. They really entertained the audience because everyone wanted to know where they were coming from and who they were.

PRESIDENT'S WIFE VISITS ADDINGTON

President's Wife spending some time with the children

The President's wife, Thobeka Zuma visited Addington Hospital to handover toys and gifts to the Children's Ward, that is, Ward 13 "A"

The President's wife arrived at Addington Hospital accompanied by the East Coast Radio crew.

EThekweni District and Addington Management gave the President's wife, Thobeka Zuma a warm welcome as she arrived at Addington Hospital.

In the Ward the Staff sang and dance as they welcomed the President's wife.

The East Coast Radio together with the President's wife then went to each and every child and handed toys and gifts. This was a very happy moment for the children. This was apparent when children were smiling and playing with the toys. For a moment it was like pain had seized to sick children. This was even enhanced by the President's wife, Thobeka Zuma when she went to each and every child in the Ward and checked their condition and comforted the lodger mothers.

Apart from this visit it should be noted that there are several other private institutions that are offering toys and gifts to Addington. They come every now and again to offer toys and gifts to the children's Ward.

This initiative is essential since it plays a critical role in the therapeutic management of the children and gives a mile to them.

THE MAN MOVES LIKE THE LEGEND

"THE LEGEND HIMSELF" GEORGE JURGENS NEL

The legend Mr. Elvis Presley may have died some years ago but to some he is still alive.

There are fans like Mr. George Jurgens Nel that have spent their whole lives celebrating the life of the icon Elvis Presley.

Everything Mr. George Jurgens Nel does resembles that of Elvis. Mr. George Jurgens Nel will be turning 62 years of age in July 2011 but he can still move like the legend. He has the following collection of Elvis Presley, namely, 30 Records, 45 DVDs, 27 CDs, T-shirt, statue, decorating plates of Elvis Presley, big puzzle of Elvis Presley etc.

Even on his cell phone he plays songs and DVDs of Elvis Presley.

He has collected every data about Elvis. He can tell you everything about him. When he starts talking about him you can realize that he is talking about the man that he has high regards of. He can tell you about the date of birth of Elvis, his family history, his birth date, the date that Elvis passed away. He can tell you about his childhood, his career in the music industry, his generous attributes, his relationship with his mother, his chronic disease etc.

People like Mr. George Jurgens Nel are always happy. They relate with everyone that shares the same sentiments with them. They are always keen to share what they know with others about the legend.

Mr. George Jurgens Nel is employed as a Porter at Addington Hospital. He is a diligent and energetic male. He is placed at the Addington Poly Clinic where he is doing a fantastic work.

He is married and have two sons. When he is relaxing at home he plays only the music of the legend, Elvis Presley or watching his movies. He always wear clothes with Elvis Presley tag.
