CLAIRWOOD HOSPITAL CELEBRATES WOMENS DAY

Women employees listening to a message of support from Pastor Hadebe

The struggle to end GBV continued to be a call made by women employees during Womens month celebration. As they celebrated this day with fanfare they were also cognisant of the fact that 2021 Statistics South Africa released a report indicating that one in five women (21%) had experienced physical violence by partners or by men.

Organisers of this event led by EAP Ms. Zulu saw a need to organise an event which its aim was to boost the morale of women and make them feel important despite what they all generally going through.

This day was filled with laughter and emotional support as speaker after speaker spoke about how powerful women are and the resilience they show in difficult circumstances. All the speakers encouraged women to not forget to put themselves first and not to always taking care of other people's needs ahead of their needs.

Women were pampered with gifts and were also pampered with cosmetic beauty treatment for finger nails and hands which was offered by Clairwood staff members who showed an incredible talent in women beauty treatment.

Asked about the importance of this day Ms. Zulu had this to say “ women go through a lot and it is important that during this month we get together as women in the workplace to celebrate, dance and

PHARMACY DEPARTMENT OBSERVE PHARMACY MONTH

LEARNERS FROM HAMILTON MAKHANYA HIGH SCHOOL DURING A HEALTH TALK

A trip from Mobeni to Umbumbulu was worth taking for the Pharmacy staff who decided to visit the school as part of their pharmacy month awareness. The theme for this year pharmacy month was Women and Youth month which seeks to highlight women's health and youth health services.

The aim of the visit to the school was to provide information on how pupils can prevent teenage pregnancy which if it were to happen would be detrimental to their career prospects. The hospital team covered topics like use of contraceptives.

Boys were not left behind as they were also covered in topics like peer pressure and career guidance which mostly covered health related careers.

When this initiative was being planned by pharmacy staff they needed funds to buy all necessary packs for teenage girls and boys at the school. Clairwood hospital staff happily donated towards this good course. Packs which included sanitary pads for girls and roll-ons for boys were distributed to almost all the teenage learners at the school. The team was able to give a talk and gif packs to about 250 pupils.

The representative of the school were so grateful for what Clairwood hospital did. "being a school in a rural area means that learners may not get exposed to such important information which will shape their future and open their minds whilst they still at school. Your visit has brought such joy to us as educators and learners we really appreciate the hospital management and all the pharmacy staff for their generosity.
