Mseleni Hospital's Women's Month Celebration

“Wathint’ abafazi, wathint’ imbokodo!” “You strike women, you strike a stone, and you will be destroyed!”

A woman's month celebration at Mseleni Hospital was saved for the last day of August (31st). The event was characterized by: singing of women songs, traditional dance, and women empowerment speeches covering different aspects.

Women were also reminded of their magnificent role that they play in the health sector as well as in their communities. They were also encouraged to fight their biggest challenge which is “ABUSE”. There are also a wide range of women related issues that were addressed on this celebration in order to remind women of their special importance.

“Wathint’ abafazi, wathint’ imbokodo!” “You strike women, you strike a stone, and you will be destroyed indeed!”

Even young women had traditional dance to offer for the celebration

Mseleni Hospital women took charge of their celebration as they danced, sang and listened to their guest speakers.

Indeed it was magnificent celebration; and the way most women were dressing made it clear that they were ready for Heritage Day on 24th September.
