WASTE MANAGEMENT SERVICE AREA

Mr. X.E. Mnyandu
Waste Management
Officer

I'm Xolani E. Mnyandu Waste Management Officer at Thulasizwe Hospital. I arrived at the 1st of July 2014, it has been nice working in a place with so many challenges as the institution is a specializing in Multi-drug-resistant tuberculosis. MDR TB is a form of drug-resistant TB in which TB bacteria can no longer be killed by at least the two best antibiotics. As a result, this form of the disease is more difficult to treat than ordinary TB and requires up to 2 years of multidrug. The Healthcare risk waste which is generated by the institution is more dangerous if compared from other Healthcare facilities. I as waste management officer of the institution have to control and prevent the spread of the infections at the institution and surrounding communities around our institution as well as to protect our environment as a whole at all times.

I ensure that our institution segregate waste at the point of generation. I have trained staff to know proper containerization for all HCRW. Ensure the waste is stored safely and collected on time. I ensure HCRW is managed and records are kept and there is a fully functional tracking system. I have appointed the full functioning waste management committee which is combined with the IPC committee as we deal with similar issues. The committee was appointed with the help of the CEO. Waste management committee sit and discourse waste management related issues on a month bases. I also ensure that the institution has all the policies and relevant legislations and that the institution complies
