RESTED IN PEACE

1. Ms. S.N. Zulu Staff Nurse
2. Mr. M.Z. S'biya Transport Officer

Peacefulness is the medicine for stress and 'burnout'. Peace is our natural state, and within all of us there is an innate core of calm and tranquility waiting to be rediscovered. Powerful ways to access this inner peace by practicing peacefulness, caregivers can access their positive qualities, which help to build self-respect and contentment at work.

I would like to extend my sincere gratitude to the CEO -Mr. B.B. Dlamini, the entire Management Team of Thulasizwe Hospital , All Staff from all Sections and the community we serve

In 2012 we will be focusing on strengthening the implementation of national and provincial programs, for example, TB Management, HIV/AIDS (HCT), "Make me look like a hospital" project, and Health Education working together with Hast Coordinator & Campaign's Team, based on the targets given to us by the Hospital Management, District and the Department of Health

Lastly I would like to thank Ms. P.Z. Mthabela DMN -Thulasizwe), Mr. L.E. Xulu, Ms. T. Ngcobo (District PRO) and Ms. Nqobile Mbatha (PRO-Vryheid) for the support they have given to me during office work.

If you are quick to take offence, then you'll be under the control of those who you find offensive.
If you are easily angered, then your actions will be dictated by those who anger you.
When you're down to nothing
God is up to something. The faithful see the invisible believe the incredible and then receive the impossible

Always Wear a Smile on your face, people might notice your presence
